

Home > Tags > Posts tagged with "AJA MALIBU"

AJA MALIBU

INTRODUCING AJA MALIBU: A HOLISTIC MOUNTAIN RETREAT OPENING 2016

Beauty & Fashion

Social

Restore, rejuvenate, transform and reactivate your inner spark at Aja Malibu. Located in the Malibu Mountains on 23 ocean-view acres once owned by President Roosevelt, Aja Malibu is a luxury boutique mountain retreat for health and wellness-seeking connoisseurs.

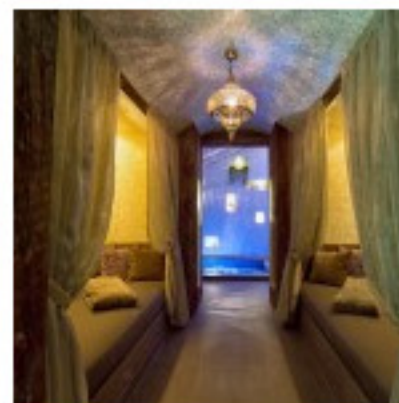

Aja incorporates elements of deep Earth wisdom with other ancient wisdom teachings from around the world to create its signature residential program, "The Magick Process™." This immersive mind-body-spirit tune up and restorative cleanse is designed to activate and support the re-alignment and balancing of the body's seven energy systems, known in Sanskrit as 'chakras,' and reconnect people to the beauty, magic and mystery of life.

AJA Malibu is a lifelong dream for its owner Inannya Magick, an Australian mystic and artist who spent seven years transforming the Malibu property into the Edenesque sanctuary it is today. With seven guest rooms, seven gardens and a seven-night accommodation offer, Aja is a haven unlike any other that Malibu has seen.

Holistic Focus

Aja's holistic focus encompasses both Earth wisdom and the wisdom of ancient cultures, demonstrated through the retreat site's rituals, ceremonies, plant-based cuisine, and healing spa therapies that utilize biodynamically homegrown herbs as well as a combination of flower, color, light, sound and crystal therapies to support optimum energy alignment and overall wellbeing. In addition to the number seven-themed chakra gardens, Aja also hosts a fun apothecary room where guests can experiment with making their own herbal elixirs and enjoy DIY "bath-body-beauty" workshops that teach men and women alike of the health benefits of everyday plants that are readily and easily accessible. The emotional wellness aspect of "The Magick Process™" moreover aims to guide guests to harness the notion that "The Guru is You" in a self-empowerment process to engender meaningful thought patterns leading to optimum levels of wellbeing.

Interior Design

Aja is designed to be a 'home with a heart' rather than simply a hotel. The attention to artisan detailing includes walls and walkways carved with texts of blessings, and embedded with thousands of crushed rose quartz crystals to better channel the energy of the heart and of these writings. Aja is moreover filled with auspicious statues and artifacts collected from the pilgrimages of previous owners throughout North Africa, Nepal, Peru, Indonesia, India and the Australian Outback, each with fascinating stories to tell.

Every detail of the interior of Aja has been made with holistic consciousness, including the use of natural, reclaimed FCS-certified timbers, sustainable cooling systems, solar powered radiant heat, organic sheets, towels and robes, and all-natural latex, hypo-allergenic and dust mite free mattresses.

All shampoos, conditioners and soaps are natural, toxin-free and compatible with the grey water system, where all bath and shower water is recycled for use in the garden, and everything is cleaned with chemical-free products made on site by Aja's herbalist. Customers can feel completely safe with the knowledge of the extensive lengths Aja has gone to in order to provide a completely non-toxic, natural environment for the most discerning guests seeking the crème de la crème of holistic experiences.

Of Aja Malibu's guest rooms include the Yogini Treehouse, decorated with goddess imagery and ancient fertility symbols, and the Dharma Cave, which houses artifacts from Nepal and Tibet. Hand-sewn African relics decorate the Fairy's Wing, and a mystical fairy circle, advised for inclusion by a 10 year old girl who reportedly had a direct message from the fairy kingdom, also completes the interior. The Dreamweaver rooms contain indigenous shamanic Peruvian weaving and Aboriginal paintings, and flora and fauna imagery fill the Garden Grotto.

Garden To Table Cuisine

At Aja Malibu, customers experience one of the most nutrient-dense diets on the planet, with live plant-based, biodynamic and garden-to-table cuisine. These factors combine to form the "Aja Chakra Tune Up Diet™", a low-glycemic, gluten, wheat and dairy free, low nut based program that supports cleansing and detoxification while providing high-level nutrient saturation for the body. Some results of such a diet include mental clarity, weight loss, improved mood, skin clarity, brighter eyes and improved sleep.

Aja's artisanal menu is lovingly harvested on-site from the property's biodynamic vegetable and medicinal herb gardens, which also form the basis for Aja's herbal infused olive oils, vinegars, green powders, herbal salt blends, sauerkraut, and herbal infused glycerites. The Aja mantra, "hand made with heart," clearly speaks through its food, the quality of which cannot be found in stores.

Special tours with the chef of Aja Malibu reveal the edible flowers and herbs growing in the facility's garden that are used in the cuisine, inspiring visitors towards personal gardening. These tours change seasonally along with the site's menus.

Workshops

Each day visitors participate in a mix of daily wisdom workshops, tea ceremonies, edible garden tours, experiential nature exercises, fire and moon ceremonies, meditation, and daily hikes in the area's local canyons, for which Malibu is famous.

Upon its opening date on August 22nd, 2016, Aja Malibu will offer all-inclusive rates starting at $10,000 per person for a seven-night stay that includes up to 28 spa treatments, all available workshops and materials, dining, and naturopathic supplementation.